PLAGUE MARINE

FIREFIGHT PLOY

POISONOUS DEMISE

The body of a Plague Marine plays host to countless poisons and plagues. Upon death, their bloated forms may detonate, spreading foul contagion all around.

Use this firefight ploy when a friendly PLAGUE MARINE operative is incapacitated, before it's removed from the killzone. Each enemy operative visible to and within 3" of that operative gains one of your Poison tokens (if they don't already have one); for each of those enemy operatives that already has one of your Poison tokens (including if they gained one during this action), inflict 1 damage on them instead.
