PURLOINED RATIONS

Ratlings have a well-earned reputation for greed. No field kitchen is safe from their thieving hands. It is not uncommon for a Ratling to settle a rumbling belly with a link of freshly liberated protein reconstitution prior to firing a killing shot.

Once per turning point, when a friendly RATLING operative is shooting with a rifle and you've rolled your attack dice, you can use this rule. If you do, improve the Hit stat of its rifle by 1 until the end of that sequence. This can allow you to apply the Hit stat change during an action (this takes precedence over the core rules).
