

You cannot interrupt each enemy operative's activation more than once per activation (including Guard), and each friendly operative cannot perform more than one free action per turning point as a result of this rule.

