Obsessive Bloodlust: Once during each of this operative's activations, when this operative ends the Fight action, if it's no longer within control range of enemy operatives, you can use this rule. If you do, it can immediately perform a free Charge action (even if it's already performed the Charge action during that activation), but it cannot move more than 2" during that action. Doing so doesn't prevent it from performing the Charge, Dash or Reposition action afterwards during that activation.
